PREFERENTIAL TRADE.

NEW ZEALAND GIVES A PREFERENCE

It Is Not Yet Known What Trade Concessions Canada Will Grant New Zealand.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Ottawa, Dec 1st.—The following is a copy of a cable received by Sir Wilfrid Laurier from Premier Seddon, of New Zealand.

"The Preferential Bill has passed the House of Representatives by 50 to 16, and in the Legislative Council there was no division. Thus the bill has passed practically unanimously. New Zealand has kept good faith and given its first installment of preferential trade to the Empire."

(Signed) P. Y. SEDDON.

Until such time as the details of the bill have been received by the Dominion government it will be impossible to say what trade concessions Canada will give in return, or whether the British preference will apply.

MEETING AT STAR

F. Oliver M. P. Addresses the Electors at Star on the Questions of the Day.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Star, December 2.—Frank Oliver, M. P., addressed a largely attended meeting of the people of this neighborhood in the schoolhouse last night. H. Belcher acted as chairman. Mr. Oliver discussed the questions of the day. His address was listened to with a great deal of interest.

It rained hard here yesterday, but has since changed to snow, and there is now enough for good sleighing.

SALVATION ARMY SPECIAL SERVICES

The Salvation Army has been holding a series of meetings in Edmonton. The local officers, Captain Greene and Adjutant Gustaf, have been assisted in their efforts by Maj. Burditt, Winnipeg, provincial officer for the West, and by Adjutant Sloc of Calgary, and the Calgary Salvation Army brass band, consisting of thirteen pieces. On Saturday night there was a musical entertainment in Robertson Hall. It was for the purpose of raising money for the new barracks and also to help pay the expenses of the bandmen from Calgary. The program consisted of solos, duets, trios, quartettes and instrumental selections. The large hall was crowded and the entertainment was very much enjoyed. Sunday's meetings were very largely attended, and Sunday night a number of the crowd of people who went to the hall could not even get standing room. Sunday morning's meeting was a holiness service and the subject of the discourse "A Test of Love." Major Burditt conducted the service. In the afternoon he spoke on the subject "A Faded Leaf." The subject of Sunday night's meeting was "Wrecked, or Broken in Great Waters." Short addresses were delivered by Adjutant Sloc and the men from Calgary. At the Sunday services there were eight seekers. Major Burditt and the Calgary band, as well as the local officers, were greatly pleased with the generous way in which the Edmonton people contributed to the Army funds.

The new Salvation Army hall on Fraser avenue was opened on Monday night. The service was highly successful, and a large number were in attendance. The newly converted people were enrolled at this service. The dedication of Sergt-Maj. Brunelle's child also took place at this meeting. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental selections and short addresses.

WHO IS G. E. FOSTER.

London, Nov. 28.—Mr. Emmott, M. P., speaking at Oldham, referring to Geo. E. Foster's visit, said he thought it would be a grave misapprehension for any party politician of this country to go to Canada and tell her what she ought to do. If Mr. Foster was a man of importance, he, Mr. Emmott, would not strongly resent Mr. Foster's coming to Oldham to take part in a party political to the backbone, Tory protectionist to the backbone, and came here and posed as a friend of preferential treatment to Great Britain. When a man like Mr. Foster, who was not only out of office, but out of parliament, and who had fought in two bye-elections and had failed in both, came here to instruct us, the speaker was inclined to inquire whom he represented.

THE C. N. R. IS NOT FOR SALE

A recent announcement that the Canadian Northern Railway was for sale to the Grand Trunk Pacific, has brought out strong denials from both Messrs. Mackenzie of the Canadian Northern Railway, and Haynes of the Grand Trunk Pacific. The former is particularly emphatic in his denial. Although in the Northwest where both companies well, we would be sorry to see one absorbed by the other. The fertile belt needs more than one line to develop it throughout its length, and it is better that this development should be by two parallel, competing lines than by one line with no matter how many branches. We were glad of the prospect of a single competing railway system in the Northwest. We are as much better off with three than with two as we are with two than with one, especially when the third is a through line and is secured under circumstances which guarantee that it will always be an effective competitor. However useful the Canadian Northern may be, the fact that it has no outlet to either ocean places it at such a disadvantage that there is always a possibility of its coming under the control of one or other of its competitors. Not so with the Grand Trunk Pacific. The Grand Trunk is one of the greatest of the railway corporations on the continent. In equipment and management it is as good as the best, and as to its ever coming under other control, it need only be said that the Grand Trunk may be buying railroads, but it is not selling them.

THE TELEGRAM GLOATS

The Winnipeg Telegram which has been devoting a good deal of its ample spare space to the attempt to queer the interests of the Territories, has the following Ottawa dispatch, the tenor of which shows that that more or less reputable journal is ready to say anything that will hinder, delay or discredit the Grand Trunk Pacific: "Ottawa, Nov. 19.—James Macoun, assistant Dominion naturalist, spent some months in the Peace River district to prepare a special report for the government, presumably to influence the vote on the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is now announced that the report was not published some time ago because it is hinted that it was not favorable, and if published would injure the financing of the road. Years ago the late Mr. Dawson said that the district could raise three hundred million bushels of wheat. Professor Macoun, father of this James, also gives a glowing report, but the new report is likely to give the district a black eye. Summers without frost are the exception." If Mr. Macoun has reported against the agricultural capabilities of the Peace river country he could only have done so to the best of his knowledge and belief, based on the experience of eight months. Supposing he had spent the same eight months on the banks of the Red River, in what is admitted to be the star wheat producing region of the world, could he have reported the summer without frost? Certainly not, if he told the truth. And pray how often does a summer occur that somewhere within the limits of the far-famed province of Manitoba does not show frost. The readiness of the Telegram to seize upon the rumor of an unfavorable report regarding a great area of country such as the Peace river country shows that the interests of Canada are not what it has first in mind.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Editor Bulletin.—Be so kind as to publish the article entitled, "Greek Catholic Church." It sometimes happens that inaccuracies are printed and reprinted in matters relating to the Catholic church. I do not hold you responsible for all the errors relating to Catholic church matters, as occasionally found in the Bulletin, but I purpose, when necessary, to call your attention to some of greater consequence.

The Christians who believe the doctrine of the one, holy, Catholic and Apostolic church and recognize the sovereign pontiff at Rome as the successor of St. Peter, and chief of all the churches, to whose decisions they conform in all matters of faith and morals, very often retain their ancient liturgy, rites, discipline and distinctive usages. This difference, like their difference of language and architecture does not imply a difference of faith, but only a difference in the expression of that faith.

The pope has under his jurisdiction all the Roman Catholics of either Latin or Greek rite. The difference between Greek and Latin is grounded upon differences in the expression of the same faith.

Several liturgies are in use in the Latin church, viz.: the Roman rite, the Ambrosian rite (Milan, Italy), the Mozarabic (Spain), the rites of various religious orders, like the Dominicans. There are in like manner, several different classes of the Greek rite, viz.: the Greek proper, the Armenian, the Syrian, and the Coptic.

Here is a list which indicates the variety of Catholic rite practiced by the different Oriental, including Asiatic and African, races:

Roman Catholic, Greek, Greek proper, Melchite, Roumanian, Hungarian and Transylvanian, Slavs, Ruthenian and Bulgarian; Armenian; Armenians, in parts of Galicia, Turkey and Western Asia; Syrian; Syrians, Syr. Maronites, Syr. Chaldeans, Malabar; Coptic; Copts of Egypt, under the recently restored hierarchy, Abyssinians.

I fully realize that you are not expected to know all these things, but when allowing articles or notes to be published in your paper, for prudence sake, take information from the proper authorities. Under the present circumstances, His Lordship, Bishop Legal, of St. Albert, is the only Catholic Bishop having jurisdiction over all the Roman Catholics living in Alberta. His jurisdiction extends equally to Roman Catholics of both Latin and Greek rite. While, for instance, R. R. F. F. Ledue and his assistants are Roman Catholic priests of the Latin rite, R.R.F.F. Filas, Strowski and Dryk are Greek rite. All of these gentlemen recognize His Lordship, the Bishop of St. Albert, as their bishop. With all due consideration for your kindness in listening to me, and hoping that these remarks and the enclosed article will be satisfactory. Yours respectfully,

L. S. CULIERIER,

St. Albert, Nov. 29th.

The following is the article:

In the Bulletin semi-weekly edition of Nov. 27th, 1903, the words, "Greek Catholic church" are used inaccurately. They give one to understand that a Greek Catholic bishop, namely, a bishop appointed by the pope, has come to Edmonton and surrounding settlements for the purpose of ordaining priests, according to the Greek rite, to minister among Greek Catholics. Nothing of the kind has yet occurred. The three words, "Greek Catholic church," correctly "apply to the body and bodies of Christians, who in Eastern countries maintain their union with the holy See of Rome, although they retain their ancient liturgy, rites, discipline and distinctive usages. Greek Catholics are also called United Greeks, or Uniates, to distinguish them from the Schismatic Greek Christians, who have separated from the Roman pontiff, and call themselves the Greek Orthodox church. In fact, these Christians have for a long time discarded the word Catholic, calling their church only, the Orthodox church, or in Russia, the Russian Orthodox church. For the purpose of spreading confusion in the minds of certain ignorant people, they tried, of late, to introduce the word Catholic into their official name. Notwithstanding this insertion, the word Orthodox is never omitted. A priest, or bishop, therefore, who would pretend not to belong to any portion of the Greek Orthodox church, but simply to the Greek Catholic church, could be only a Greek Catholic priest, and in bishop united with Rome. And in bishop united with Rome, and in the so-called Bishop—Soroten, alias Seraphin, is reported to have done. Every intelligent reader may draw his own conclusions from the following documents:

"The Russian consular forwarded the following note, asking some newspapers to publish it:

"To the Imperial Russian consuls in the United States and Canada. After the information from the Russian consuls in Canada on the doings of a certain Seraphin, calling himself Orthodox Bishop and Metropolitan in America, the second deputy of the Imperial ministry begs to inform you that, according to the communication of the general procurator of the holy synod, the said person is nothing but an ex-Orthodox priest, named Stephen Ousvolsky, who was allowed in 1882, on his request, to leave the clergy, and later to retire in the East as a simple individual, without right to call himself priest, or to fulfill any ecclesiastical functions. Therefore, the said Seraphin in all the titles which he has assumed, is acknowledged neither by the Russian ecclesiastical government, nor by the oriental Orthodox patriarchs; also, all those on whom he has conferred orders must be looked upon as impostors and false priests, and the sacraments administered by him or by them, or any other act of religion, have no validity whatever. The department wishes you to give this communication the widest publicity in the country where you act as consul.

"The sub-director (Signed) A. Bentokofsky."

From the Winnipeg Telegram, September 14th, 1903.

The above notice was read in all the Catholic churches at vespers, on Sunday, 6th of September. On enquiry in Winnipeg it was ascertained that Stephen Ousvolsky was excommunicated by the Greek Orthodox and Armenian churches in 1882, owing to his ultra-radical views. His theories were accepted by a few followers, and encouraged by this, he set about to establish a modern Graeco-Roman church, which although observing the tenets of the Russian church, yet believed in the pope as the head of the same. Subsequently he came to America and started an entirely different sect with himself as head, to which he hoped that immigrant Russians would flock, and in order to obtain followers the more easily, he proclaimed himself Orthodox Metropolitan of all America, which title would, of course, attract the ignorant. It is to foil this attempt to disengage Orthodox Russians from their faith that the notice is issued. The church which the so-called Seraphin is seeking to establish must in no way be confounded with the Russian Greek church, which has many adherents both in the old world and the new."

P.S.—But most assuredly he is not a Catholic bishop.

MY PARTNER JACK

My Partner Jack, the play which the National Stock Company produced at the Opera House last night, was greatly enjoyed. The hall was fairly well filled, but not nearly as many were present as the merits of the play deserved. From first to last the play was excellent. Horace V. Noble as Jack Paden, Jr., was exceedingly good, and won well deserved applause. Clara M. Cornyn as Marguerite Otto, proved as much a favorite as ever with Edmonton audiences. W. G. Bosch, as John Paden, Sr., portrayed the character well and was very amusing. Harold Hunting, Adrian Karje and Hans Otto were all good.

The specialties between the acts were greatly enjoyed and were of a much higher standard than the usual run of specialties. The dancing was very popular as was evidenced by the great amount of applause which it received. The juggling was cleverly done. Special mention should be made of one of the specialties, the song, My Old Dutch. The rendering of this song was artistic, touching and greatly enjoyed.

The company plays the Resurrection this evening. In Calgary the company got a great deal of credit for their rendering of the Resurrection.

POLICE COURT.

Three cases came up at the Northwest Mounted Police barracks, Edmonton, yesterday.

The first two cases were for contravention of the Fisheries Act. They came up before Harrison S. Young, Fisheries Inspector, and Major Belcher sat with Mr. Young, at his request. Lambert Courtepatte and William Campion, of Lac la Poudre, were each charged with setting a net and killing whitefish out of season. Both were fined ten dollars and costs.

Lambert Courtepatte was charged before Major Belcher with threatening to shoot the game guardian if he did not hand back the nets he had seized. He was committed for trial.

C. P. R. SURVEYS

Plainsdealer.
C. P. R. Engineer Cawowski and party returned the beginning of the week to Strathcona, having completed their third trial survey from this point to Vegreville. We understand that this last survey is very satisfactory, being much shorter than the former ones and having a 4-10 per cent grade through the Beaver Hills. The party pitched camp at Strathcona and did some locating work in town. Their line from the east comes in over the wye road joining the C. & E. in the vicinity of the wye. The latest trial line to the high level bridge, just west of Walter's mill, leaves the C. & E. at McDonald's avenue and curves in a north-westerly direction past Jackson's foundry, through the Presbyterian church drive, and across R. B. Douglas's property, and so on past Joseph McDonald's residence to the proposed crossing. Their work for the season being completed, Mr. Cawowski's party broke camp on Wednesday and left for Winnipeg on Thursday's train. Nothing definite will be announced regarding construction of the company's line east from here until Mr. Cawowski's report is acted upon by the management, which will doubtless be within a few weeks.

THE MONEY IS UP

An Ottawa dispatch of November 24th to the Winnipeg Telegram says: "The government is notified that the receiver general for Canada has received on deposit, $5,000,000, being the guarantee for the Grand Trunk Pacific." This deposit is security that the railway company will have its line completed from Winnipeg to the Pacific within five years.

—Herald.—The Edmonton Daily Bulletin issued a very creditable illustrated edition last Friday. Many excellent cuts of Edmonton industries and buildings were shown and the paper was well filled with a good write up of the town and district. Typographically and otherwise the edition was a credit to western enterprise.

A Novel Suggestion for Christmas.

We know that many of the good people about us are intending patronising us for Xmas photos—many have already told us.

Just Suppose.

(and this is improbable, though possible) that the finishing of the new studio is further delayed, and we find that, by the time we are all settled and ready to take those photos for you, there would be insufficient time to turn the work-out and DO IT PROPERLY, what are you going to do?

Let Us Solve the Problem.

We are getting a number of neat cards printed, on which appears a note—a promissory note in fact—by signing your name to which you agree to forward your photo as soon as there's the point. You wish your friends the best of cheer at Christmas, don't you? The very novelty of the thing will make that friend smile, the resultant anticipation will make that smile hold, and the realization will cement it there. Every little helps, you know.

Follow this suggestion and you will be pleased, your friends will be delighted, and we shall be happy too, so everything will be lovely.

You can get the cards at the studio in good time. Await announcement of opening.
